FOREWORD

It was the aim of the annual staff to record the year's events. In future years may a glance at this yearbook recall memories otherwise forgotten.

The year 1964-1965 has been well filled, for the students at B. H. S. were kept busy with classes, teachers, studying, and extracurricular activities. All these activities play an important role in making school days--happy days.

Memories of Our

Who says that the way to a man's heart is through his stomach?

"Get this down in your chemistry notes."

One of the most popular spots was around the ice cream box at the break.

Long Gone Experiences

"I must be smarter than I thought!"

These seniors were "busy-bees" during their library period.

Many hours we spent getting ready for the Jr. Sr. Banquet.

Little Things That

Senior cheerleaders proudly display the black and gold!

A good dinner sharpens wit while it softens the heart.

Typing: This would be fun if my fingers co-operated more.

Are Important

We were always happy to see Barbara and Linda coming with our mail.

We're off for that wonderful week-end at the Beta Club Convention.

CLASS HISTORY

Can you believe it? We're actually Seniors! After four short years we have acquired the title for which we have worked so hard.

Our beginning, in 1962, was a very confusing and frightening time. But with the help of Miss Thelma Gibson, our homeroom teacher, who was also new in the high school world, we soon grew accustomed to class-changing. The class officers elected for that year were Gaye Chilton, President; Jimmy Brown, Vice-President; Louise Maness, Secretary; Dorthy Jones, Treasurer.

Almost before we knew what was happening, we were Sophomores. Miss Georgia Badgett, our homeroom teacher, was an inspiration to all of us. The following students were elected as class officers: Jollene Gilliland, President; Jimmy Anderson, Vice-President; Herman Cheek, Secretary; Jimmy Brown, Treasurer.

My, how time flies! We're Juniors already. Connie Welch, President; Pete Cox, Vice-President; Louise Maness, Secretary, and Frances Jessup as Treasurer were our class officers for that year. We shall never forget presenting the banquet, the theme of which was, "Tender Is the Night". Miss Faye Reynolds was our homeroom teacher.

As we entered our fourth year of high school it suddenly dawned on us that this was the last one. These were the officers for our final year: President, Pete Cox; Vice-President, Harold Welch; Secretary, Louise Maness; Treasurer, Sylvia Garner. We were greatly honored to have Connie Maness and Larry Brown selected Harvest King and Queen early in the year. In November the class displayed their talents as actors and actresses in the hillbilly comedy, HEADIN' FOR A WEDDIN'. The co-directors for the play were Miss Faye Reynolds and Miss Lois Richardson. With the help of Mrs. Betty Caviness, our homeroom teacher, we successfully published our annual for 1965. Also that year we were runners-up in magazine sales.

With mixed emotions we face graduation. We rejoice at having completed our high school education, but our hearts sadden at the thought of leaving "Dear Old Bennett", our beginning, the place where our characters were molded. But time pushes us on into other beginnings in which there will be new challenges and new things to conquer.

Frances Jessup,

Class Historian

CLASS PROPHECY

As we look into outer space we see how the Seniors of '65 have progressed.

Becky Brady is now the star of the N. C. basketball team. She always was a good ball player.
Wayne Brady is now an overseer at Collins-Aikman. He always liked to show people what to do.
Guess who now has his own hickory nut and pecan farm. None other that Bobby Brown, whose favorite nickname in high school was "Squirrel".
Wonder who is now designing heavy bumpers for Oldsmobiles? Our own Larry Brown chose this occupation after experiencing the impact of one.
Linda Brown is now studying hard on her Master's Degree. She only lacks two more months.
Raymond Brown is now head of the Franco-American Company. We didn't nickname him "Meatball" for nothing.
Herman Cheek is now head of the world's largest fur company in Alaska. You can bet that he'll never slay Santa's little helper "Marco the Bear".
Who else do we see on T.V. discussing politics? None other than Gaye Chilton. She always was good on that subject.
Barbara Cox and her husband Ray are happily married, living in the Bonlee area. She has always liked that spot on the map.
Paul Cox is now owner of Kelly's Tire Service. He has designed a longer-lasting tire, since he wore out so many in high school.
Linda Freeman is now happily married and is employed as a private secretary to her husband Bill.
Wonder who just won the "Charlotte 500"? None other than Jimmy Garner, who has always liked to change gears.
Who do we see living on a farm with her husband Pete? Well, it's Sylvia Garner.
Wayne Hill wasn't called "Susie Sow" for nothing. He now is head of the Piggly Wiggly Grocery Chain.
We got a letter the other day from Brenda Hussey. She says she enjoys her work at Duke University.
Virginia Hussey has organized her own cheerleading team, consisting of her children. We remember she was an excellent cheerleader.
We hear that Frances Jessup is back at "Ole Bennett High" teaching the third grade.
Dorthy Mae Jones and her husband have moved to the Robbins area where she is employed at North Moore High School teaching French.
Bill Kidd is headed for the World's Championship Bronc-Rider Contest. He has always been interested in rodeos, and he says it's graham crackers that gives him that extra energy.
Connie Maness and her husband Clifton have finally got that big brick home that they have always wanted.
Louise Maness is now happily married and living in the Robbins area. We always could see her around there.
Helen Meggs and her family are still living in Bennett, where she is employed at Bennett High School teaching Chemistry.
Rama Moran is now the best beautician in Bennett. She always did have pretty, curly hair.
Kenneth Murray no longer has to pinch pennies for those torn-out transmissions, since he now is boss of the Gravy Train.
The Chief Commander of all American naval bases is now Harold Welch. He always did believe in standing up for our class.
